Michael Prokopchak, founder of Walnut Hill Landscape Company, discovered his love of plants back when he was a teenager working in a local nursery. He learned more about the landscape industry and eventually established his own company in 2005.

Walnut Hill provides exceptional value by delivering unparalleled craftsmanship and service. Through their commitment to teamwork and relationships, professionalism and integrity, a superior image and a keen attention to quality and detail, they have thrived ever since while earning numerous national and local awards.

When clients work with Walnut Hill, they will find a wide range of services available to them, whether they need landscaping or hardscaping. The dedicated team of licensed landscape architects, designers, project managers, landscape industry-certified crews and relationships with industry specialists allow them to manage complex projects while ensuring they capture the essence of the client's desires in bringing their dreams to fruition.

Customers will also find a valuable emphasis on relationships, one where there is clear communication from design phase all the way through installation. Walnut Hill always strives for a final product that reflects personal style and exceeds expectations.

Walnut Hill is a proud member of American Society of Landscape Architects (ASLA), Landscape Contractors Association of MD, VA, D.C. (LCA), National Association of Landscape Professionals (NALP), American Institute of Architects (AIA), and Annapolis Design District.
